

Inter-Arts Minor Advisor Consent Form

Students participating in the 2024-25 Interdisciplinary Arts Capstone Workshop must submit this completed form via email to artsinstitute@stanford.edu no later than Friday, April 26, 2024.

Administered by the Stanford Arts Institute, the Undergraduate Minor in Interdisciplinary Arts (“Inter-Arts Minor”) allows students in any major to design a study plan that combines their critical and creative interests, as they learn to make meaningful connections across multiple disciplines. The Minor culminates in an interdisciplinary capstone project, which students complete throughout their senior year in conjunction with a weekly workshop.

In addition to programmed support for the cohort, each minor student works with a faculty advisor who provides feedback and guidance on the content and scope of the project. Faculty advisors may recommend relevant media and/or readings, assist the student in developing a realistic timeline for the work, and serve as a source of support during the student’s capstone year. We ask that advisors meet with their students at least once each quarter and assist in evaluating the project on a quarterly basis.

Please note that an Inter-Arts Minor faculty advisor must be an academic council member, a senior lecturer, or a Stegner Fellow, or must hold a named lectureship (e.g. Jones Lecturer). Inter-Arts Minor advisors who are not members of the academic council are eligible for compensation in the form of a quarterly stipend.

By signing this document, we confirm that the student has communicated with the faculty member about their proposed capstone project and that the faculty member has agreed to serve as advisor for this project.
